The end point of the 300 meter calibration course is exactly 300 meters from the start point. It is one foot in front of a fire-hydrant which is 11 meters before the bleachers when heading north on Stable Drive. It is the only fire hydrant on the length of the soccer field.

The start point of the 300 meter calibration course is exactly 300 meters from the end point and approximately 28 meters north-west of the section of railway that intersects Stable Drive, nearest to the Nova Scotia Lands building. The start point is directly in line with a square manhole cover.

The 300 meter bicycle calibration course is located on the north-west end of Stable Drive in the Harbourside Industrial Park in Sydney, Nova Scotia. The calibration course is approximately 1.1 meters from the pavement. Both end-points are marked with PK nails and orange spray paint.
